GENERAL ADVANCE

Japanese Move Forward Along the Whole Line

SAKHAROFF REPORTS AT LENGTH

Operations Have Not Been Stopped By the Rains

KUROKI BEGINS HIS ADVANCE.

St. Petersburg, July 8th.—A special despatch from New Chwang dated yesterday says General Kuroki is advancing all along the line and adds that Japanese officers are organizing Chinese bandits in bands throughout Liao Valley for an attack on Mukden.

THE JAPANESE PLANS (?)

Liao Yang, Thursday, July 7th.—General Kuroki, talking to a Russian officer, who had been taken prisoner said the Japanese intend to take possession of all southern Manchuria, establishing themselves at Port Arthur and Yin Kow, the port of New Chwang, which it is proposed to fortify and garrison, with large bodies of troops, to be supplied with long range artillery. If the Russians recaptured these places, General Kuroki declared it would be at the cost of an enormous amount of money and 800,000 fresh troops from Europe.

RUMORS FROM LIAO YANG.

St. Petersburg, July 8th.—It is reported in a special despatch from Liao Yang under yesterday's date that a persistent rumor is current there to the effect that a naval engagement has occurred at Port Arthur in which 21 Japanese warships participated resulting in a Russian victory.

St. Petersburg, July 9th.—The war office confirms the report of the Japanese advance toward Kai Chou. The military expert of Kassega Viedomost. believes General Kuropatkin has now been driven to accept a general engagement near Liao Yang. Therefore he is not offering a strong resistance to the advance of the Japanese on Feng Hai Wang, Cheng, desiring to draw them into his own selected ground. General Sakharoff, commander of the eastern army in a long despatch to the General Staff dated yesterday, reports outpost skirmishes over a wide territory throughout July 5th and 6th which indicates a general advance of the Japanese who are driving back the Russians' advance posts.

General Sakharoff says that the Russian losses during the fighting on July 6th have not been definitely ascertained but it is known that two officers and 15 men were killed or wounded.

He says: "In general, we observed on July 6th, that the enemy was taking the offensive, simultaneously along his whole front, extending from the seashore as far as the valley of the Chin Chan river. On the morning of July 7th a vast camp of the enemy was discovered in the neighborhood of Liao Khetza. At 8 a.m. July 7th the enemy occupied the heights near Bao-sitcha. No rains have fallen recently."

Liao Yang, July 8th.—There have been repeated skirmishes during the past days at Dainy pass, some of them being hand to hand encounters. The Japanese have a tremendous force east of Liao Yang and they evidently want to force a big battle before the rains set in.

Held Up the Bookies

The Vancouver Province tells the story of how the masked men held up the bookies at the recent races there, a mention of which appeared in the Bulletin some days since:—

The highway robbery by which Quann Bros. and W. S. Dickson lost between seven and eight thousand dollars is the most daring piece of criminal work in that line ever brought off in the vicinity of Vancouver.

There was just enough dash about the job to recall the days of hold stage robberies of California. But the men who perpetrated this holdup on Saturday evening were poorly equipped with the sand of your old-time road agent, and they committed some blunders in their attempt to get away with the money that would make any self-respecting highwayman turn up his nose in contempt.

For all the circumstances would show that thieves, possibly local men, emboldened by the possibility of a rich haul and the chances of no armed resistance, turned into highwaymen for the nonce to make the big cleanup.

As nearly as can be estimated, $7500 was handed over in the two grips which Mr. Quann threw out upon the dusty road. Of this $2500 had been recovered last night. Five hundred was picked up on the ground and $1750 was found in a cache where the robbers had hastily made a "plant." If the highwaymen could not get away with the banknotes, it was reasonable to suppose that the heavy hundred pounds of silver was also left behind in another cache. The finding of this would mean another $1800, which would make in all about $4000 of recovered money. This would leave the book-makers with just about their original bankroll, the remaining $3500 being composed of winnings on the books and profits from the bar and other sales during the two days' racing.

Of course the silver has not yet been found, but the police are confident that it is lying somewhere in the brush, and that it will be found within a day or two.

The story of the holdup has been told so often on the street corners during the last two days that it is already familiar. Six men were in the hack. It left Hastings about 7:30 o'clock, and started leisurely towards town. H. W. Cassidy was driving the horses and with him on the box was George Mead, a sporting man who paid bets on the "lucky star" and other numbers of the big chuck-a-luck wheel under the grandstand. Sitting in the hack were Mr. Quann and Charley Johnson with their backs toward the driver, and opposite were Ed. Newman and Charlie Steel. The hack was half-way between Hastings and the brewery at Cedar Cove, when suddenly two men stepped out from the bushes on the north side of the road. One man, the larger, slipped a shotgun up to his shoulder and ordered the driver to stop. The other approached the side of the hack. Both men were masked. Each had used the sleeve of a sweater in which were cut holes for the eyes. Their faces were completely hidden and none of the men in the hack could recognize anything about the robbers which they are likely to be able to again identify. Mead and the driver uttered surprised exclamations and Mr. Quann partly rose in his seat to look around so that he might learn what the trouble was.

"I turned my head to look out and I was staring down the barrel of a big revolver," said Mr. Quann this morning. "I was never so surprised in my life, but I think I was just as cool as I was then. I thought it was a joke. Then the grim earnestness with which the man who held the gun appeared, struck me as peculiar, and I began to realize that we were up against it. His hand trembled violently as he pointed the weapon. I was afraid it might go off by accident. 'The grip,' came a voice from behind the mask. I reached down, and as I did so suddenly thought that if I gave them the silver that would satisfy them. I lifted it up and dropped it over the side. The man moved back, and then came a voice from behind the shotgun which still covered the driver. 'Get the other grip,' commanded the large man, and I handed that over and it fell to the ground. The small man stooped and pulled the grips away so that the wheels would not pass over them. If any of our party had had a gun that would have been our chance, but there we were without even a cane. There was nothing to do but stand and deliver. Do I think he would have shot? Well, I don't think I would have landed over the money if I had not been afraid that a refusal would have resulted in some one being killed. They had us any way you may look at it.

"The big man ordered the driver to return to Hastings. 'Turn around and drive as hard as you can,' said he. We did it. We went perhaps a hundred and fifty yards when I shouted for Cassidy to stop. I jumped out and ran back, but could see nothing. All at once the men, still masked, ran out from the bushes on the north side and down the road they went towards town at full speed. I followed, putting in my best licks. The man with the shotgun turned and fired. Then they turned in a path to the south having crossed the road. I kept on to the first house, which is only a hundred yards further on. Then we sent for the police and in a little while Provincial Constable Munro came out driving. We started to explore the path. Other police officers soon arrived and the search became general."

Sunday was devoted to search by the police and many citizens. It not only resulted in the finding of a large part of the money, but showed what the robbers had done after they got out of sight of Mr. Quann. The probability is that they left the silver behind before they started on the run down the road. Search so far has failed to locate it. They struck through the woods on a little path, and not more than a hundred feet from the dusty roadside must have stopped to look over their booty. For here were found their masks and the revolver held by the shorter man lay on the ground. The gun was loaded and in perfect condition. Scattered on the ground were found dozens of bank notes. These were denominated in ones and twos and fives and tens, and together with some gold pieces also scattered around a log amounted to $340. Early yesterday Jack Quann found an additional $150 in the nearby vicinity. The robbers must here have tried to separate the money and apparently succeeded in getting away with much of the money of large denominations. There were seven or eight hundred dollar bills in the package and all but one of these are gone. Then the majority of the gold and many fifties and twenties were also taken. It is probable that

His Department. Either we have responsible government in Canada or we have not. If we have responsible government, that means that the Government is collectively and individually responsible directly to the people for every administrative act. If men employed by the Government were able to place their individual views before the country irrespective of the government the government could not properly be held responsible for such publication. There would be a division of authority; which there cannot be if there is responsible government. If the Opposition party desires to have affairs so arranged that the military officers, and other officers of the various departments of the government, shall be at liberty to make such reports as they please, they will have to change the system of government prevailing in Canada from the responsible to the municipal form. But as long as we have responsible government the Ministers and the Ministry must be the final judges as to everything that is said as well as done in the name of the government by the officers of that government.

Borden Against Responsible Government

Mr. Borden, Leader of the Opposition, followed the lines taken by Mr. Haggart, but confined himself altogether to the Dundonald affair. He, too, maintained that the Government was wrong not to publish the opinions of its officers; and held that every communication with the Government or a member of the Government was necessarily a public document. The stress of conditions which compelled such a declaration on the part of such a man must have been severe. If no communications to or from a government, or between its members, are to be privileged, then again responsible government becomes impossible. Under the responsible system every member of the Cabinet is responsible for every public act of every other member of the Cabinet, as well as for actions of the Cabinet as a whole. To say that the necessary communications which must take place before all the members of a Cabinet can arrive at a united conclusion should be open to the public is to say that the government could not be carried on under such circumstances; and no one knows this better than that gentleman, who, as a means of unfair attack upon his opponents, took that astounding position.

Borden Willing to Profit by the "Foreigner" Campaign

Mr. Borden also took the opportunity to discuss the campaign which had been made so enthusiastically by so many of his followers on the use of the word "foreigner" by the Premier. He was well aware of the fact that in the press and on the platforms of the party which he leads the strongest efforts had been made to turn the use of the word by the Premier to the advantage of himself and his party by accusing racial antagonism against the Premier. In his speech he admitted the use of the word by the Premier was a slip of the tongue which should not be made the basis of an attack upon him, and yet before he closed he pointed his argument in such a way as to identify himself distinctly with that campaign which he himself said was unjust and unworthy. Mr. Borden's attitude on this point fills exactly the description given in his speech of Friday last by Dr. Russell. He said: "The Leader of the Opposition was a very able man of very high character and it was altogether remarkable to find him taking part in a campaign such as that which his followers in Parliament and his party press were launching against the Premier. His position resembled that of a prominent man of high character who flourished in Paris in the time of the Commune. One day he was seen traversing the streets at the tail of a mob made up of persons whose company was not to the credit of such a man. A friend who saw him asked, 'Why do you follow such a crowd?' 'Follow them!' he said, 'Because I have to: I am their leader.'"

If the Opposition had hopes from the first Dundonald debate and were badly disappointed, they must have been worse disappointed by the result of this attempt to revive the question. The debate was continued during the afternoon, but when the House re-assembled at 8 o'clock instead of its being continued the motion was put to the handful of members who had assembled at that hour, which did not include Mr. Borden, Mr. Haggart, Colonel Hughes, or any of the supposed fighting members of the Opposition, and was declared lost, without a vote. The procedure is that the Speaker in putting a motion says "Those in favor of the motion will say 'aye'." A response is made by those who favor it. He then says, "Those against the motion will say 'no'." Those against the motion respond. He then says, "I think the 'ayes' have it," or "I think the 'nays' have it," as the case may be. If nothing further is said the matter is closed and the result recorded.

WETASKIWIN RACES

The first annual celebration of the Wetaskiwin Turf and Exhibition Association was a grand success. The weather was all that could be desired and the crowd began to assemble early in the morning of the first day and remained there until the last event was over on the evening of the second day. Sunday's special train from the north took about a dozen of the fast circuit horses on their way from Edmonton, which was assurance that record time would be made in all the open events.

In the afternoon the largest crowd ever assembled in Diamond Park was present to witness the races.

In the free for all there were four horses entered, namely:

Strathy M., owned by D. H. Chambers of Brandon.

Fred Wilkes, owned by J. B. McDonald, of Griswold.

Prince Vale, owned by A. Moody of Calgary.

Chas. McGregor, owned by McMillan & Matheson, of High River.

The order of finish by heats was as follows:

Prince Vale ..... 1 1 1
Strathy M. .... 2 2 3
Fred Wilkes ..... 3 3 2

Time—2:20, 2:21, 2:23 1-4.

In the 2:30 trot or pace there were three entries, as follows:

Glideway Jr., owned by McMillan & Matheson, High River.

Lucy M., owned by G. A. Gouin, Edmonton.

Sandy, owned by Cunningham and Miller.

The order in which these finished at the wire was:

Lucy M. .... 1 1 1
Sandy ..... 2 2 2

Time, 2:34, 2:33 1-4, 2:44.

In the three minute event the three horses that started were:

Boundary Boy, owned by H. H. Matheson, High River.

Don B. owned by J. E. Graham, Fort Saskatchewan.

Pioneer Pete, owned by W. H. Eggleston, Wetaskiwin.

The order of finish was:

Don B. .... 1 1 1
Boundary Boy ..... 2 2 2
Pioneer Pete ..... 3 3 3

Time—2:44 3-4, 2:43, 2:44 1-2.

The half mile run was very keenly contested and when the Wetaskiwin horse won second place in the first heat by a head it brought forth hearty applause from the crowd.

The horses entered were:

Jolly Mont, owned by J. L. McPherson, Butte, Mont.

Reeder, owned by P. Turner, Wetaskiwin.

St. Helen, owned by E. Davis, Calgary.

O'Day, owned by J. P. Lyons.

The order of finish was:

O'Day ..... 1 1 1
Reeder ..... 2 2 3
Jolly Mont ..... 4 4 2
St. Helen ..... 3 4

In the mile open dash the horses facing the starter were:

Easter Card, owned by J. L. McPherson, Butte, Montana.

Pirate Maid, owned by E. Davies, Calgary.

They finished in the above order.

Time—1:48.

On the second day the crowd was somewhat smaller than the first day but the races were just as keenly contested and faster time was made. In the half mile run O'Day established a track record of 51 seconds in a close race. In this event there were four started, namely:

King Fisher, owned by L. E. Standefer, Wetaskiwin.

Reeder, owned by P. Turner, Wetaskiwin.

That's all.

The order of finish was:

O'Day ..... 1 1
King Fisher ..... 2 2
Reeder ..... 3 3

Time—51, 51 1-2.

In the mile open dash the three horses facing the starter were Easter Card, O'Day and Reeder, and they finished a close heat in the order mentioned. Time, 1:48 1-2.

The quarter mile pony race was one of the best of the day, but considerable time was lost in starting. Midnight made a brilliant finish in the first heat, slipping up and passing Tom Tit by less than a head at the wire, but won the second heat easier.

The horses entered were:

Jimmy Pazzler, owned by F. E. Algar, Ponoka.

Tom Tit, owned by E. Marshall.

Midnight, owned by W. H. Eggleston, Wetaskiwin.

The order of finish was:

Midnight ..... 1 1
Tom Tit ..... 2 2
Jimmy Pazzler ..... 3 3

Time—25, 26.

In the half mile green pony race 14 1-2 hands and under, there were five entries and proved a very interesting event, as Strawberry and Johnny ran a dead heat in the first trial. The horses entered were:

Bride, owned by C. Wibert.

Lucy Cream, owned by W. Wilson.

Johnny, owned by C. F. Hoover.

Grey Billy, owned by Labourcan.

The finish by heats was:

Strawberry ..... 1 3 2
Johnny ..... 2 1 1
Grey Billy ..... 3 2 3

In the 3-8 mile dash there were three entries, namely:

County Han, owned by C. L. Meids.

Midnight, owned by W. H. Eggleston.

Bud, owned by Phillip Bough.

They finished in the order mentioned in 38 1-2.

In the farmers' trot the two horses having a close finish were Dr. Wyle's horse who took first, with David Ambler a close second.

There were eight entries in the 100 yard foot race. F. J. Mitchell, of Ed-Bishnoe and Narcis Simons were remon-ton was an easy first while Peter spectively second and third.

PREPARING FOR A LONG TRIP

A Banff despatch says: One of the largest trips yet undertaken through the mountains will be commenced in a few days by Brewster Bros., outfitters. The party is headed by Fred. Hussey, of Pittsburg, and Dr. Stearns, one of the well known medicine manufacturers of Philadelphia. Already eighteen pack ponies have gone ahead loaded with provisions, in charge of W. Potts. They are making their way to the Athabasca falls, where the rest of the party will overtake them at an early date. The course mapped out is no definite one, and the time it will take will exceed four months. After leaving the Kootenay plains, above the headwaters of the Saskatchewan, the party will proceed through Wood pass, down the Sunwapiti, striking the Athabasca and following north to the Miette river. Here a permanent camp will be made, and during the summer the large rivers and surrounding country will be explored. In the fall Mr. Hussey and the doctor will make a collection of game birds and the fur-bearing animals of that part of the Rockies, and considerable time will be spent in drawing maps of the water courses and mountains for future reference. On Mr. Hussey's return he will quit again at Edmonton and take the Grand average to the barren lands after the musk ox.

More Police Work For Britain

The Russian government has accepted the offer of Great Britain to police and protect the seal fisheries of the Kommandor and Copper Islands off Kamchatka. On learning the intention of Japanese and British sealers to take advantage of the present war to devastate the herds on the islands and appreciating the difficulties of Russia at present to detail warships for this purpose, Great Britain volunteered to undertake the task, provided the Russian government would allow British warships to cruise, coal and take on board supplies at Kamchatka. Russia gladly accepted, and informed the British embassy at St. Petersburg of its acquiescence. Viceroy Alexioff, who was consulted on the subject, has telegraphed that British cruisers will be afforded every facility at Petropavlovsk to draw half the stock of coal, amounting to 2,000 tons. The British ships will only exercise the right of search in the case of British and Japanese vessels.

FROM FT. SIMPSON

A correspondent of the Winnipeg Free Press writing from Fort Simpson in the far northern district of Mackenzie under date of March 31st, says that portion of the country had a very severe winter. For two months the thermometer never went above zero and was as low as 54 several times. Rabbits are dying off in great numbers, which will be bad for the Indians. There were two steamers and one schooner at Herschal Island during the winter. The government mail to Chipewyan does not help Fort Simpson for mail as a lot of the letters go to Athabasca Landing and do not leave there until March 5th, and as the H. B. C. mail leaves Edmonton about the 13th of February and goes via Lac La Poudre, it misses all of the mail at the landing and they do not get most of the mail until July which is provoking to say the least. There have been no papers later than the 23rd of December, 1903.

Mr. Ball passed through on his way from Resolution to Fort Norman, a distance of six hundred miles. When it is considered that it was made with dog trails and the thermometer often 40 degrees below zero it must be admitted that it is quite a journey. He goes to replace Mr. Patton, for Hialep and Nagle.

Admission to the New Governor

In confirming the appointment of Prince John Sobolevsky as governor-general of Finland, the Czar sent an autograph letter to the prince relative to the situation there. This letter, which is in the nature of an imperial rescript, has been published. The Emperor therein expresses his conviction that it will be possible to maintain the local autonomy and the privilege of legislating for himself enjoyed by Finland since union with Russia. "I consider," writes the Emperor, "that the murder of General Bobrikoff was merely the work of a madman and a few like-minded confederates, and that the Finnish people had no part in the nefarious act. The executive power must inflexibly strive for the closest union of Finland and the empire. I imposed upon General Bobrikoff when he was appointed the gradual attainment of this end as being his first duty. He fulfilled it with national firmness until death ended his honorable services, which have won him an enduring name in history. I also expect that the new governor-general will most zealously follow the instructions now given him. I admonish him before all things to strengthen in the minds of the Finnish people the conviction that their historic destinies are indissolubly bound up with those of Russia, and that the future prosperity of Finland under the Russian sceptre, as well as the future of the political institutions granted her, depend on a peaceful order of things taking firm root in the country."

the robbers got away with this, which aggregated, according to the total figures furnished by the bookmakers, about $3500.

Having looked over their green-goods, the men must have been exposed to view in making this trip, for the place is as open as a field. On the further side there is a fallen tree with a root thrown up as high as a two-storey house. Behind this the ground is marshy and salmonberry bushes grow luxuriantly. Here the robbers made their largest "plant." The ground is covered with branches and moss, and little bog holes a foot and a half in depth are frequent. In one of these the robbers stowed away a little matter of seventeen hundred dollars. The green corner of a ten dollar note was discovered by Mr. E. L. Woodruff yesterday afternoon, and the next minute he was down on his hands and knees peering at all kinds of wealth. Chief North and Mr. Quann were on the scene in a few moments, as was also Detective Mulhern, and the party started to search for the money. The notes were a little damp from contact with the earth. There was a package as big as a picture hat in July, when the hole had been fished dry. There were two hundred one dollar bills, five or six hundred dollars in fives and rather more than that amount in tens. Then there was a hundred in twenties and a solitary hundred dollar bill that had evidently become mixed with the stray "ones." This looked like a little luck but that is the limit of the finds up to noon today. The chief and his men hunted for gold and ate salmon-berries all the afternoon.

Not a thing has developed since yesterday that would throw the least light on the identity of the highwaymen. The theory that local men did the work is supported by the excellent knowledge they displayed about the habits and arrangements of the bookmakers. They knew there were two grips, and also must have known persons and details very well.

—A picnic and sale of ladies work will be held opposite the residence of Mr. D. Glose on Wednesday, July 20, in aid of the parish building fund of the Church of England, New Lunnun. A good program of sports has been arranged.

—Before leaving Deloraine, Man., for Strathcona, the Rev. T. J. Johnston, Methodist minister, was the recipient of a handsome gold watch and chain. Mrs. Johnston was also presented with a solid gold crescent brooch set with numerous pearls.

—Corporal Peters, N. W. M. P., who has been in charge of the Olds detachment for the past two years, has completed his term of service and taken his discharge from the police force. He will probably engage in business at Vancouver.

—The Dominion Short-Horn Breeders' Association of Canada intend having representatives present at the Dominion of Canada exhibition at Winnipeg this month and Secretary Wade will be in attendance to give any information regarding the association which may be required. It is also the intention of the association to have an office on the grounds where they will be pleased to supply pedigree forms and transfer slips, free of charge, and to receive registrations, etc. This, no doubt, will be found a great convenience to the western breeders who may wish to make registrations at the time of the exhibition.

A Funny Resolution

Farmer's Advocate:
 The following resolution passed at the convention of Boards of Trade held in Calgary recently:

"Resolved—That in the opinion of the convention a duty of 32 per cent should be imposed upon American lumber entering Canada, under such conditions and restrictions as will absolutely prevent any increase in price arising by reason of the imposition of such duty as aforesaid."

Farmers were not represented at the convention, consequently their voice was not heard. Considering that Calgary, like other towns and cities in Western Canada, is suffering from a dearth of houses to rent at reasonable figures, which the convention must have known, the above resolution becomes ludicrous. Lumber prices should come down lower yet, which can be done by a lowering of the freight tariff of the C.P.R., which is far too high. That octopus is getting the bulk of the cream off the lumber trade, the lumber manufacturer the balance, while the logger and the purchasers, largely farmers, pay the piper.
